Memo: Upon a reference being made to a list in the Insp^t Gen^l Office of Discharged Troops and Soldiers under Capt Ross it will be found that The Myn Hogle was among them and one of course fully entitled to be upon the U. E. list. Their mother's name being upon the U. E. list in lieu of the late Capt. Hogle, who was killed in the War, has nothing to do with the present claimants who was soldiers and after the peace came into the Province, and settled here and were as much entitled to be upon the U. E. list as other soldiers was. Their father being a captain and having been killed, surely is no objection to his sons being entitled if they served D. R.

The names of Petitioners' Father, Sebastian Hogle, and Uncles James and Francis were marked on the U. E. list, but suspended. The name of their mother Elizabeth Hogle, widow of Captain Hogle was inserted thereon by O. C. 12 February 1811

Reference is requested to the applications made by Sebastian Hogle and his Mother Elizabeth, and to the minutes in Council passed thereon in February 1811

The Hoosac Valley: Its Legends and Its history.

Trace Greylock Niles.

p. 66 The first settler north of the junction of the Hoosac River (with the Hudson) was the fur-trader, Bartholomew Van Hogleboom. His Christian name "Bart" was given to the stream known once as Bart's Kill, now the Batten Kill.

p. 115 The founders of the Fort St. Croix in 1724 included: Pitt Van Hogleboom.

p. 117 Pitt Van Hogleboom, son of the fur-trader, Bart Van Hogleboom, from the junction of Bart's Kill--Batten Kill--also cleared a lot two miles above Falls Quenick and built a log house, which was subsequently owned by Nicholas Brown.

p. 118 Eight or ten greedy burghers, also, of Rensselaerwyck, headed by Juria ~~Kreigger~~ Kreigger, pushed up the Hoosac Pass about 1724 and "squatted" on the Cohoha cornfields, near the junction of Wash-Tub Brook with the Hoosac, about Kreigger's Rocks and at Weeping Rocks, nearly four miles east of Twenty-Mile Line of New York, on the New Hampshire Grants. No contemporary records exist of those settlements, although after Pownal was chartered to the English in 1760, the Dutch land claimants of several farms included the names of Juria Kreigger, Petrus Voseburgh (Vose), Bastian Van Deel (Diel), Frans Burns and his brother, Pitt Hogle (Van Hogleboom), Henry Young, Schorel Warters Watson, Jr. Devot, Long Andries, John Spencer; and later the Van Arnam, Van Norman, Anderson, Fischer, and Westinghouse families.

p. 121 Ambuscades of savages began to lurk throughout Hoosac Valley after the English commenced to build Fort Massachusetts. Nicholas Bovie of Kreigger neighborhood, now North Pownal, Vt., was scalped and left for dead, although he survived many years and was known as "Scalped Dick." His uncle, Petrus Bovie, while a garrison soldier at Fort Massachusetts, was killed during October, 1747, and PITT VAN HOGLEBOOM and his youngest son were later slain. The latter, according to his mother, was buried on the bank of the Hoosac in the Cohoha cornfield. (see note) The late Alonzo Whipple, one of the Pownal citizens, located his disinterred grave many years ago after a freshet, and recovered his brass-bowled pipe, which is now in the possession of V. D. S. Merrill of Bennington, Vt.

p. 231 Several Dutch and German tenants of Rensselaerwyck "squatted" in Pownal on the N. H. Grants between 1724 and 1760, including: Hogg and Voseburgh (Vose) families on the site of Green Brimmer farm; Best on the Ichobob Paddock and Silas Eldred farms; Bastian Van Deel, Petrus Bovie, and Pitt Van Hogleboom later on the Voseburgh farm. known today as the Thomas Brownell Place near the State Line Bridge.

p. 241 After the firing of the first guns in the Battle of Lexington, Daniel Hull of the Little Hoosac organized two companies of militia; one remained posted at Hull's Tavern in North Berlin and the other was engaged in active service. Several Tories resided in Dutch Hoosac. Lieut. Joseph Rudd of Bennington, in a letter dated after the Battle of Bennington, records that "the greater part of Dutch Hoosac" joined Peters' Corps of Loyalists under Col. Francis J. Van Pfister, posted at the Tory breastwork on Van Pfister's Mill. Capt. Samuel Anderson of Pownal rallied a Tory Company, including Petrus Bovie, Bastian Van Deel, Francis Hogle, "Gad" Gardner, and others residing along the disputed Twenty-Mile Line between New York and the New Hampshire Grants.

In the city of Kingston in the 1890's there resided a talented and respected physician, Dr Nathan Dupuis, being of French extraction. He had a son who was at Queen's College, studying to become a physician. These two young men became saturated by tales of

This was about the time that Madame Curie and her husband discovered radium. This discovery stirred the world of letters and imbued physicians and scientists as to its values as a cure-all. And among them was the team of Dupuis and Hagle. They converted a sample in the form of a ~~tablet~~ ^{solution} said to convey to the patient all the miraculous values of radium. This precious fluid was bottled and sold under the name of Dupuis'
Radial Wonder.

In order to advertise the goods, Dr. Bequith had given an order to a German firm to have a thousand miniature records, such as that of the ... presented to customers, and

Papers In Possession of James C. Hogle, 1950

written by Anna G Hogle

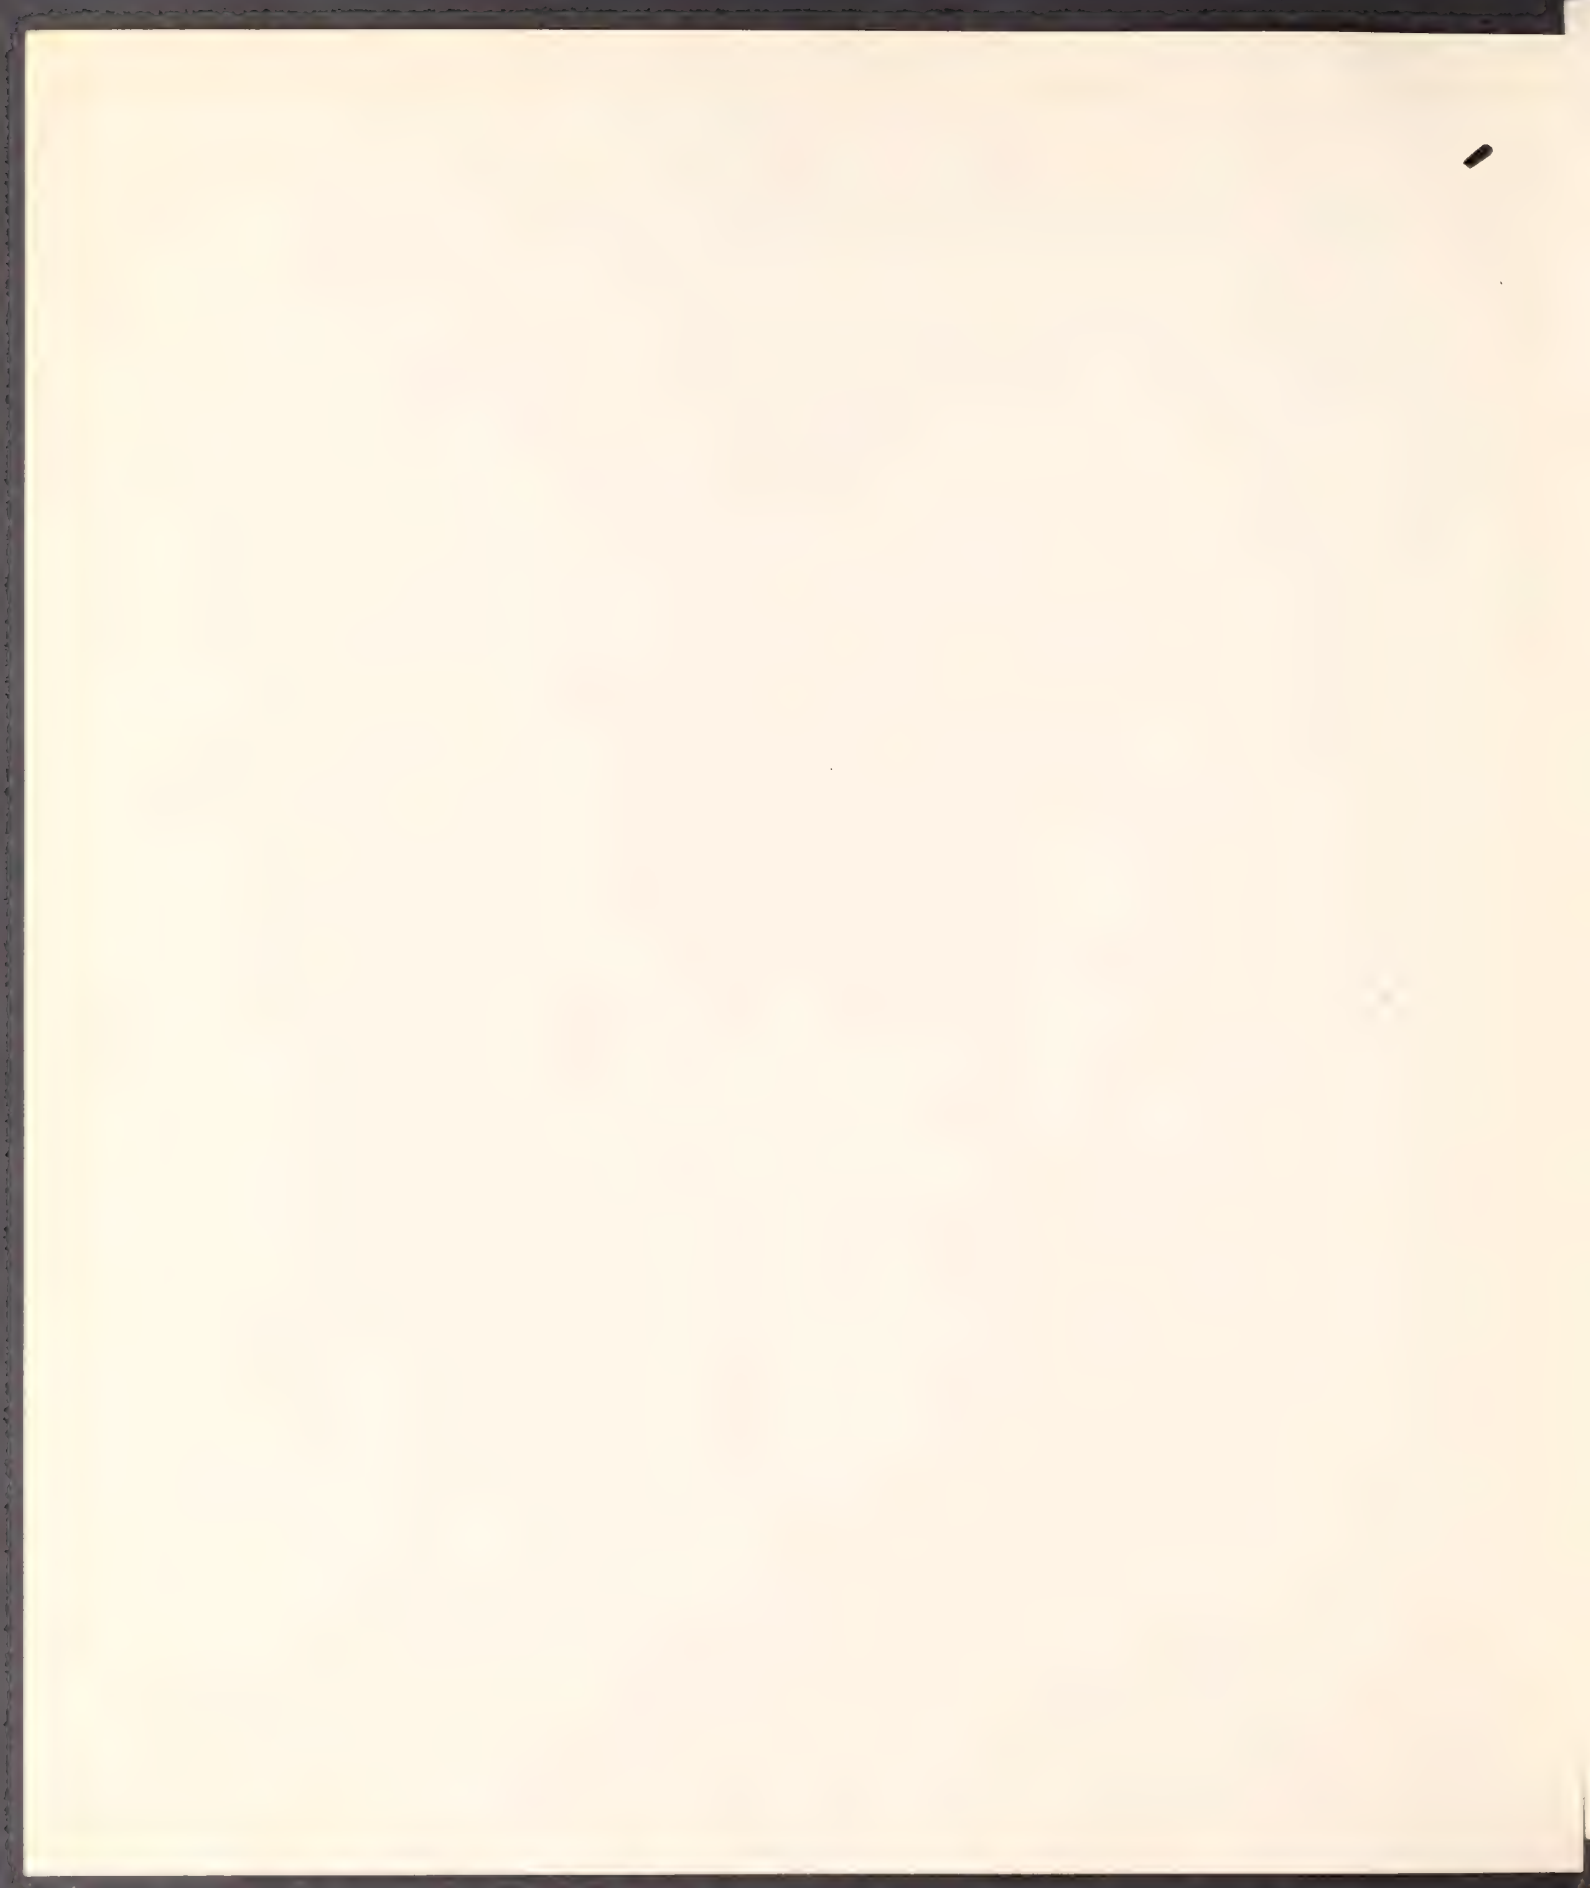

My great grandfather, John Hogle, was a Captain in the British Army at the time the United States fought for its independence, and was killed at the battle of Bennington, his widow then came to Canada landing at Kingston with her three sons. One son named Francis settled on a farm in the Township of Sidney. One son named James settled on the York Road and the other son named Sebastian and his mother settled on the farm now owned by Mrs. William Hogle.

James Hogle, son of Sebastian, was my grandfather. He died from the effects of a fall from a horse at the age of 56 years. His wife's name was Patience Nicholls. She died of old age 86 years.

My mother's father's name was John Blake, an Englishman, died of old age 91 years. His wife Maria Rude, died from typhoid fever at the age of 65 years. Her mother Catharine Rude died at the age of 98 years. My father John Hogle died May the 8th 1898 aged 71 years and 7 months.

Anna G. Hogle

John Hogle was born in Ernesttown on a farm one mile from Ernesttown Station, November 25th 1826. He married Susannah Blake at Odessa Sept. 23rd 1851. Mr. Hogle carried on farming and also successfully operated a Woolen Mill & Plaster Mill and built and operated the first cheese factory in Eneestown for seven years. ~~The same year~~ He was in public harness in the capacity of ~~John Hogle~~ County Councillor, a representative of the township of Eneestown, as deputy reeve, and in 1876 received the highest honor in the hands of the County Council of Lennox & Addington by being made Warden. The same year he was appointed by the Government Collector of Customs at the port of Bath, which office he held until his death May 8, 1898. In religion he was a Methodist, holding prominent positions in the Church.

Mother's Pedigree in Odessa.

Married to John Hogle by the Rev. William Coleman, Methodist Minister, 1851, 23rd Sept. Died at 91

Parents

John Blake, born in the city of Gloucester, next door to the Red Lion, christened in St. James Church, married at Kingston by Archdeacon Stuart, sometime about 1814. ~~to Maria Rude~~ Maria Rude, who was born at Westbrook. Her mother's maiden name was Catherine Purnell, died at 78. Maria Rude had three sisters, Hannah Couster, Mary Green and Margaret Farnham.

(wrong - see Hogle Records)

Susannah Hogle died Dec. 15th 1919. If she had lived until the 14th of February 1919^(sic) would have been 88 years of age.

Dear Mr. Burleigh,

In your last letter you asked me for more data on where my grandparents came from in Canada, I have been trying to find out and haven't had any luck.

I recieved a reply from the National Archives in Washington about my grandfather Robert Hogle who was in the Civil War between the states from 1862 to 1865

I am giving you his parents names in case that you might of heard of them, Robert Hogles father Jeremiah Hogle, his wifes maiden name Amanada Towns.

I can't seem to find out where in Canada they came from, but sooner or later I will as I am working hard at it.

Thank you very much for your cooperation

That your petitioner's late father in the year 1776 came to Lower Canada and joined the Royal Standard, that in the year 1777 he served in the Campaign of Gen^l Burgoyne — enlisted a number of Men and was appointed Captain by His Excellency General Burgoyne, and unfortunately, Killed at the Battle of Bennington.

Your petitioner therefore prays that your Excellency in Council will be pleased to extend his father's Ancestral Lands to your Petitioner and that his Mother's name Elizabeth Hogle may be inserted on the U. S. List that your Petitioner and his Brothers may receive their lands free of Expense.
 Kingston. 7 Feb^y 1811 "Sebastian Hogle"

I, James Parrot, of Ernesttown in the Midland District, Esquire, of lawful age, depose and say that I was well acquainted with Captain Hogle deceased — He was a Royalist. He came into Crown Point with me in October 1776. and joined the Royal Standard, and came into Canada, and the Spring following he went out with General Burgoyne, who sent him down to spread his Proclamations about Albany and Kinderhook — he returned again and brought with him about thirty men, who also joined the army, and the said Hogle was appointed a Captain, and served as such, till he was killed at the battle of Bennington — He left a widow and three small children, Sebastian, James and Francis Hogle, whom I brought into Canada in 1787, and they are now settlers in this Township. No land, or order for land, has been granted to said Captain Hogle, deceased, or to his heirs on his account, from the Crown, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

(Signed) James Parrot.
